Brookside Diving AAU Insurance Information

Individual Registration for AAU Membership/Insurance

Diving is classified as an individual sport, so as long as a diver has current AAU insurance under any club, they are considered covered. If a diver is insured through their winter diving club team that doesn't expire until Aug 31st, they are covered and do not need to get duplicate insurance for this summer.

The SJDA needs to get a new club code every 2 years. So our new club code: WW9W4A is good for 2015 and 2016 and divers can register under that code.

When Registering or Renewing…. Parents have a choice to either renew or just get new insurance and either method is perfectly fine according to the AAU. After signing in, there is a drop down menu for parents to choose the club. They should choose South Jersey Diving Association (rather than another club called South Jersey Area Diving). But even if they skip that step, and just renew and don't change anything, it's still OK. Since diving is considered an individual sport, the diver is insured rather than the club.
